INNOVATIVE GREEN ORGANISATIONS SHINE THROUGH AT AWARDS

Six innovative organisations have been crowned winners at the Green Business Innovator (GBI) 2011/2012 Awards. The winners demonstrated excellence in environmental practice across the private, public and voluntary sectors.

O'Donovan Waste Disposal, a family run waste management and skip hire company, was crowned winner of the Carbon Reduction Initiative category after recycling on average 97 percent of all the waste collected from its clients each month, reducing its staff commute carbon footprint by 34 percent in 2009-2010 and training all its 90 staff in an NVQ in Waste Management.

The awards were organised by environmental business experts at Middlesex University, who are currently managing the EcoVate Project, which provides free tailor-made environmental support to small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) in London, and is part-financed by the European Union. Through EcoVate, SMEs can receive advice on issues including waste, water, energy, transport, and supply chain linkages.
